

Betty's Good Idea

It is half past twelve in the afternoon. Betty goes to the kitchen because she is very hungry. She wants to eat a big sandwiches. She looks for the ingredients in the fridge. There is a tomato and some ham. There isn't any bread.

Dad and Betty go to the bakery and buy some bread. They get a packet of bread and go home happily.

They see an old women on the street. The old women looks thin and weak. Therefore, Betty wants to help her and share the bread with her.

Betty says, 'Do you want some bread?' The women nods her head and says, 'Thank you.' The old women feels happy because she is so hungry. Betty feels happy too because she helps others.
