

My Dream Job

I want to be a doctor when I grow up. Dr. Tse Yuen Man is my role model.

I want to be a doctor when I grow up because I want to help patients and help them have a healthier life.

I need to be caring, kind and knowledgeable so that I can take care of the patients and give them proper care. I am good at playing games and doing sports, specially running and cycling. I have studied Chinese, English, Maths and General Studies for six years. I need to improve my language skills, especially Chinese and English, do more Maths exercises and pay attention in GS lessons so that I can go to the best secondary school and university in Hong Kong.

I am going to study hard in my primary school by attending every lesson attentively and doing homework in a proper way, so that I can follow my dream to be a doctor.

If I become a doctor, I will treat the patients well and try my best to comfort them in a nice way. I hope I can achieve my dream in 15 years so that I can do something good for the society and the world.
