

Sam in Old Hong Kong

When Sam woke up, he looked outside through the window. He saw some old buildings, markets, old buses and many people on the streets. He was in old Hong Kong. He was surprised.

Then, he went to a playground. He wanted to play electronic games but there weren't any. He saw two girls playing hopscotch. He felt sad and bored. He thought, 'I want to go home!' A girl asked, 'Why do you wear the pyjamas?'

Suddenly, the wind blew everything away. Sam shouted, 'Help! Mum!' Then he woke up. It was a dream!
