

Share your experiences and stories

15 Dec 20XX 21:00

Last Friday, something happened when I was at home. I was doing my homework in the living room. My cat, Mimi, was on the floor. Mum was washing dishes in the kitchen.

After a while, my mum felt cold and she asked me to close the windows. Mimi was curious about where I was going so she jumped onto the table quickly.

Suddenly, Mimi hit my cup of water when she was jumping down to the floor. My exercise book was soaked in water. I was upset and shocked.

I cried and told my mum about it. Mum gave me a hairdryer to dry my exercise book. A few minutes later, my exercise book was dry. I didn't punish Mimi because she didn't mean to make a mess.

6C Ng Wing Ching, Doris