

A terrible ride on the bus

Hi Roy,

How are you? Let me tell you about my bus ride yesterday. After school, I took a bus home. I sat on the seat. There were two boys sitting opposite me and my grandpa. They were eating curry fish balls. Then, I was really annoyed because it's not right to eat on transports.

Not long after, a mid-aged Lady entered the bus. She felt off colour and was shivering, wearing a mask. I assisted offering a seat to help her. The boys were shaking their fishballs and were playing with it.

As the boys were playing with their food, they dropped one on my dress and socks. I felt shock at first, then I got frustrated. Other passengers were shocked and thought the boys were naughty.

After that, the lady who was sick offered me tissue, when all of the people saw it, they helped clean the mess, yet the boys didn't say sorry.

Yours,
Judy
